Division and Program Descriptions

Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention/Division 1

Federal grant money provided to the state to disburse to local agencies for prevention of delinquency.

Administration/Division 2	Administrative Services
	Provides the overall direction and management of the Office of Juvenile Affairs.
Residential Services/Division 3	Residential Programs Provide rehabilitative facilities for treatment to OJA custody youth, who have been adjudicated as Youthful Offenders or delinquents, in out-of-home community-based and institutional placements.
	Secure Institutions OJA has two medium secure institutions to provide services to the most serious and violent of the state's male juvenile offenders: Central Oklahoma Juvenile Center (COJC) located in Tecumseh, and the Southwest Oklahoma Juvenile Center (SWOJC) in Manitou. In FY-2016 OJA took over operations of the medium secure institution (Oklahoma Juvenile Center for Girls), in Norman to provide treatment services to 22 female juvenile offenders. Also in FY-2016, OJA established the Oklahoma Youth Academy Charter Schools at COJC and SWOJC.
on-Residential/Division 4	Non-residential Programs - Provide juvenile courts with intake, probation, & custody supervision services while providing protection to the public via supervision while attempts are made to identify, prevent, rehabilitate, and treat adjudicated delinquents and Youthful Offenders.
	Juvenile Services Unit - District/County Services
	After their initial arrest, juveniles subsequently come into contact with OJA employees in the Juvenile Services Unit (JSU) who provide intake, probation, and parole services to juveniles in all seventy-seven counties, except those with duly constituted juvenile bureaus. Only parole services are provided by OJA in those counties (Comanche; Oklahoma; Tulsa; and, Canadian). JSU staff work with judges, district attorneys, law enforcement, and youth services agencies to develop and provide community-based resources to juveniles and their families. Juveniles are most commonly referred to the juvenile justice system for a delinquent offense.
	Juvenile Offender Victim Restitution Work Program Mandated by statute, this program provides monetary restitution to victims when the juvenile does not possess the resources to fulfill their financial obligations and holds offenders accountable for their behavior. OJA administers a subsidized job placement program for offenders, under OJA supervision. The juvenile pays restitution by paying 75% or more of wages earned to the victim. A non-profit agency provides the work site for the juvenile.
	Regional Secure Detention Centers
	In general, juveniles arrested for felony offenses are placed in one of seventeen secure county detention centers pending prosecutorial decisions and any resulting adjudication (the Oklahoma Juvenile Code specifies that counties are responsible for providing detention services paid for largely by the state). Following their adjudication, juveniles who pose a threat to the public may remain in these facilities awaiting placement in a secure institution or group home if a bed in one of those facilities is not immediately available for them.

Graduated Sanctions Programs

OJA works with communities around the state to develop a system of graduated sanctions to address juvenile problems at an early stage. The Graduated Sanctions Program is a community-based effort whose goal is to keep youth from committing more serious offenses that bring them into further contact with the juvenile justice system. Community Intervention Centers

Often the first contact point after a juvenile is arrested for a minor offense, CIC's basically serve as interim holding facilities until the youth are turned over to their parents or guardians. The CICs are located in Clinton, Duncan, Enid, Lawton, Muskogee, Norman, Oklahoma City, Woodward and Tulsa. Offenses that result in juveniles being brought to a CIC include curfew violations, traffic violations, municipal violations, misdemeanors, and some less serious felonies and juveniles for whom detention is inappropriate or unavailable.

Level E Group Homes

Administered by the Division of Juvenile Services and established in response to the Terry D. lawsuit. This highly structured staff secure residential program operates statewide in 12 locations with 14 programs and provides services to juvenile offenders with anti-social and/or aggressive behavior but whose offenses are not so serious that they should be institutionalized in a secure institution.
Specialized Community Homes Administered by the Division of Juvenile Services and established in response to the Terry D. lawsuit. These specialized community home programs are small, home-like community-based residential facilities.
Statewide professional contractors in 2 locations provide their homes, counseling, and independent living skill services for low-risk youth.
Vo-Tech Training
Provides vo-tech skills training to juveniles.

	Therapeutic Foster Home Program Administered by the Division of Juvenile Services. Established in response to the Terry D. lawsuit in response to concerns over the rising number of youth placed in costly psychiatric facilities. The program's focus is to provide services to juveniles with either developmental delays or mental health problems through the 9 therapeutic foster home provider networks across the state. This service requires pre-authorization through the Oklahoma Health Care Authority since it is a Medicaid-compensable service.
Community Based Youth Services/Division	5 Community Based Youth Services
	Provide a statewide network of services for early intervention with troubled youth, counseling, emergency shelter care, first offender programming, and training and technical assistance using 42 designated youth and family services organizations.
	Community Outreach
	Youth Services Agencies receive referrals for the delivery of Prevention Counseling, Community Development Services and Reintegration Services. These services are targeted in school, home, and office settings.
	School Based Programs
	Youth Service Agencies provide empirically-validated life skills education programs in schools across the state during non-vital portions of the school day. The curriculum used has been proven to reduce the risks of alcohol, tobacco, drug abuse, and violence by targeting the major social and psychological factors that promote the initiation of substance use and other risky behaviors. Services can be delivered to entire classrooms or to smaller groups selected based upon specific individual concerns to be targeted by the services.
	First Offender Program
	This program consists of a 12-hour curriculum for youth referred to the juvenile justice system for the first time and their parents.
	Emergency Youth Shelters
	Program for children and youth experiencing family conflicts or who are runaways, as well as providing a safe place for abused and neglected children and youth in the custody of DHS.
	Community-At-Risk Services
	Commonly referred to as CARS, this program is operated through the Oklahoma Association of Youth Services Agencies, whose purpose is to provide community based services to juveniles either placed within the home or returning from out-of-home placements (i.e., institutions or group homes). The contracted local youth service agencies may provide mentoring, tutoring, counseling, and diagnostic and evaluation services, and/or supervision of such youth in an independent living situation.
	Life Skills
	This program is a research-based prevention program offered in schools across the state designed to reduce the risks of substance abuse and other problem behaviors by developing confidence and skills necessary to handling challenging situations in positive ways.
Juvenile Accountability Block Grant/Divisio	on 6
-	Federal grant money provided to the state to disburse to local units of government to develop programs to promote greater juvenile accountability in the juvenile justice system.
